DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The rejection of claims 8 - 13, 15 - 18, and 20 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Branigan is hereby maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The rejection of claims 14 and 19 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Branigan is hereby maintained.

Double Patenting

4. The rejection of claims 8 - 11 under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 5,782,757 is hereby maintained. It is noted that Applicant has offered to prepare a terminal disclaimer to overcome this rejection.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 4 November 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant contends that the finger cots of Branigan suffer from light piping since Figures 9 and 10 show a gap between the surface of the skin and the inside of the finger cot. The gap that Applicant refers to appears to merely be illustrative of the finger positioned within the cot, as the disclosure of Branigan clearly teaches that the finger cot provides a relatively close fit without generating occlusive pressure (column 5, lines 65 - 67) and distributes compressive forces evenly along the finger (top of column 6) both of which indicate that there is direct contact between the cot and the subject's finger. Applicant's argument against the assertion of inherency is inapt. Applicant argues that since there is no teaching or suggestion of the feature in the reference it cannot be inherent. Yet, if there were such an explicit teaching then an assertion of inherency would not be required. As Branigan illustrates in the embodiment of Figure 8, their device can include apertures (30). It is noted that one embodiment of the claimed obstruction/barrier is an aperture, such as in claims 9 and 11. Applicant's disclosure (pages 45 and 48) suggests that an aperture is effective as an obstruction since it 1) acts to divert light around the circumference of the aperture and 2) prevents a direct line of transmission of light. Since the apertures of Branigan would also perform in this manner, they are considered to inherently (that is, by the intrinsic nature of apertures) meet the claim limitations regarding the optical obstruction. With regard to Applicant's assertion that there is no teaching of an opaque shield with a receptacle (claims 12, 13, 15 - 18, 20), Applicant's attention is drawn to Figures 9 and 10 which show thickened portions of the device which are constructed from opaque materials and receive the emitter and detector. As Branigan teaches, either explicitly or inherently, all of the features of the claim limitations, the rejection of claims 8 - 13, 15 - 18, and 20 is hereby maintained.

With regard to claims 14 and 19 it is noted that Applicant does not argue with Examiner's assertion that it would have been within the skill level of the art to form the cavities of Branigan in a rectangular shape, but merely asserts that they are allowable since they are dependent from claims 13 and 18, which Applicant argues are allowable over the prior art. As the rejections of claims 13 and 18 are maintained for the reasons provided in the paragraph above, the rejections of claims 14 and 18 are also maintained.

6. Applicant's arguments, see response page 5, filed 4 November 2003, with respect to the rejection of claims 21 -26 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 21 - 26 has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 21 - 26 are allowed.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

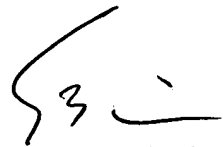

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
